Introducing . . . Chef Frank Amaturio Executive Chef, Market Street Palm Coast

We are proud to introduce Chef Frank Amaturio, Executive Chef at Market Street Palm Coast!

Chef Frank was born in New York and moved to Pennsylvania at a young age. He spent time after school and on weekends watching cooking shows on television. It was here where he developed his passion for cooking, as he and his father replicated recipes from the shows.

After high school, Frank enlisted in the Marine Corps and proudly served his country.

His culinary career brought him through various positions in professional kitchens throughout the years, working his way from dishwasher to Executive Chef, fulfilling his desire to serve others.

In 2017 Frank relocated to Florida, where he and his family operated a beachside eatery for several years, until having to make the difficult decision to sell due to medical reasons.

Subsequently, he joined the Market Street family and is currently enjoying serving the residents, families and guests of the community.
